BIG LAND SLIDES
CAUSE TROUBLE

Passengers Held up a Week—Three Hundred Feet Fill Went out—Filling the Gap

After sojourning in New Hazelton for several days, some for a week, a special train was run from this point east on Wednesday morning to Mud creek, the scene of the land slides, and then transferred over the trouble zone to a freight train which run into Smithers that night. Thursday another special was sent out and after the transfer run on to Decker lake.

Last Saturday's train from Rupert only got as far as New Hazelton on account of the big slide in the cut on this side of Mud creek. It was expected this would be cleared Monday at the latest, but the fates decided that New Hazelton had not entertained the visitors sufficiently, and a three hundred foot fill east of the slide went out. That held the passengers here a couple more days until finally the railway company decided to start the people to the front. About two miles had to be covered on foot to get over the trouble zone.

The regular train from Rupert on Wednesday night also stayed here and on Thursday morning another special was run to Mud creek and transferred across the slide to a freight train which went through to Decker lake.

The sliding of the big fill was one of the most serious on the line to date. It meant driving piles over the entire distance and it is doubtful if the gap will be crossed in time for the Sunday train.

Probably one of the worst features of the holdup of the trains was that it left the interior points short of food supplies, and the freights will probably be the last to get through. New Hazelton business houses benefited to a considerably extent due to the forced stay of so many people, and to this being the temporary divisional point.

The weather the first part of the week was anything but favorable and on the lower stretch of the road several small slides were reported but Wednesday's train pulled in pretty close to the regular time. A change in the temperature gives promise of better times for the railway.

A Slight Error

Last week in the heading of the article referring to the contract just completed by Mr. Paget it was stated that he had removed three thousand yards of material in nine months. This should have been three hundred thousand yards. Just a slight difference.

Christmas Jewelry

Mr. Cameron, of R. W. Cameron & Co., Prince Rupert, will be here next week with a full stock of watches and jewelry suitable for Christmas gifts. The firm is well known and the goods all bear the stamp of quality. Be sure and see him for Christmas goods.

MORE BUSINESS HOUSES START

Dressmaking and Millinery, Cleaning and Pressing Establishments Opened in Town

Two new business places were opened this week in New Hazelton. H. C. Keddie has started a cleaning, pressing and repairing establishment for men's clothes. He is taking monthly contracts and has already secured a good number. He is a good workman and knows his business thoroughly and should do well as such an establishment is needed here. Later on he proposes adding lines of men's furnishings. He is located at the corner of Fielding St. and Eleventh Ave., opposite Foley, Welch & Stewart's offices.

In the same building Miss Ham has opened a dressmaking parlor. All classes of sewing and millinery will be promptly and satisfactorily prosecuted. Miss Ham extends an invitation to all the ladies to call upon her.

Bridge Washed Away

The temporary winter bridge put across the Bulkley from the old town washed out the latter part of last week. The government ferry went out of commission with the low water and the government put in a bridge at considerable expense to answer the purpose, but the first rains carried it away. The old town traffic is again done over New Hazelton's high level bridge.

TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND BOND

G. T. P. Railway Ordered to Give Big Security Pending Outcome of Right-of-Way Case

Mr. Justice Murphy, in supreme court chambers, Vancouver, last week handed down a decision directing the G. T. P. railway to put up bonds for $200,000 for right-of-way values. Mr. F. W. Tiffin represented the Grand Trunk Pacific railway and Messrs. Lennie & Clark represented the Natural Resources Security Company, the owners of Fort George townsite.

The claim for the advocacy for possession of right-of-way through the Fort George townsite has developed into one of the largest of the Grand Trunk Pacific right-of-way cases. A number of Grand Trunk Pacific officials from Montreal, Toronto and Fort George were present at the trial. The amount requested by the Natural Resources Security Company for the right-of-way was $200,000 and the full amount was ordered put up in bonds.

The railway company offered for the property only the sum of $5,365 as compensation to the property owners for the property which was to be expropriated, but the judge said it was as easy for the company to put up a bond for the higher sum as for the lower in the meantime, as it would make no difference in the sum to be paid as the result of the arbitration proceedings.

Government Staked

The provincial government has sold $1,550,000 of government treasury notes, bearing five per cent, at par. This is the result of the Premier's recent visit to London. It is said that the government's cash balance in the bank is not exhausted but that it cannot be used, being pledged to the Canadian Northern railway.

Freighting From Town

Yesterday Foley, Welch & Stewart made arrangements for several teams to start in freighting from their warehouses here to Porphyry creek where a big gang of men will be employed for several weeks putting a bridge across a fill. It will also be a few weeks yet before the various slides, east and west, are made safe. In fact there will be a lot of railway men working within a few miles of town for a couple of years yet if the railway company are determined to stick to the two-tenths grade.

Preparing to Build the Rink

Roy McDonald informed the Herald this week that he intended going ahead with the skating rink irrespective of a hockey club. The old click in the old town refused to consider his suggestion of a combined team to defend the Ross cup. The old town click are now looking for outside players who are out of a job and are willing to go there for the winter.

Westminster Won First

In the opening game of the Pacific Coast Hockey League at Vancouver last Friday the New Westminster boys trimmed Vancouver by 7 goals to 5.

Christmas Presents

Time to buy them now. Send your orders to H. S. Wallace Co., Ltd., Prince Rupert, or ask for their list of suggestions for gifts for men, women and children.

Rev. Mr. Scott, of Terrace, was a guest over the week end of Rev. D. R. McLean.

The new burglar-proof safe for the Union Bank arrived on Saturday last and was installed on Sunday.

A. Tyson, Vancouver, inspector of Indian agencies, arrived here last Saturday night and spent several days in town and district.

The Gift Shop of Northern B. C. is the store of H. S. Wallace Co., Ltd., Prince Rupert. Presents for men, women and children in great variety. Mail orders solicited.

Miss Hobbs, who has been in the old town for a year and a half, spent the week end the guest of Mrs. Anger and on Sunday morning left for her home in Glasgow, Scotland.

As carefully as if you were personally present—your mail orders will be filled by H. S. Wallace Co., Ltd., Prince Rupert. Their stock comprises dry goods for women and children, chinaware, wall paper, toys, fancy goods, etc.

CONGREGATION IS GROWING FAST

Talk of Enlarging Presbyterian Meeting Place by Next Spring—Services at Night

The congregation of the Presbyterian church is growing very rapidly and the building which was expected to accommodate the crowd for some time is now taxed to its full seating capacity. It is evident that by spring an addition will be required.

In future services will be held in the evening at seven-thirty o'clock. The church in the old town has been closed on account of so many families moving away most of whom have come here. The organ has also been brought here and was used last Sunday for the first time and was much appreciated. Rev. Mr. Scott, of Terrace, preached the sermon, taking as his text "First Things First." He also sang a solo during the service.

Opening in Smithers

O. A. Ragstad was one of the many people who spent the biggest part of the week in town on account of there being no train east of here until Wednesday. He was on his way to Smithers where he will open in his new building. He has moved everything from old town and opened a complete jewellery in the new town. He is also a first class workman and will do all kinds of repair work.

Stables Were Burned

Just after day light Saturday morning fire was discovered in the stables at the Silver Standard mine. Owing to no fire protection very little could be done. The building and a quantity of feed was lost. Other buildings were not in danger as considerable space separates them. No insurance was carried. Cause of the fire is unknown.

Looking Over the Work

This week several men went to the Rocher de Boule Wonder group and looked over the proposed tunnel work Mr. Wallace has mapped out. It is not possible to start the work until the weather settles down.

VANCOUVER AND PRINCE RUPERT

To be Offered Ore Exhibits from New Hazelton District by Local Association

At a meeting of the New Hazelton District Mine Owners' Association executive last Friday night it was decided to divide the big mineral display that carried off the prizes at the Rupert fair last fall between Vancouver and Prince Rupert. The association has gathered in several more big exhibits and a creditable display can be made in both places. A small exhibit will also be sent to Saskatoon where there is considerable interest taken in this town and district.

HARRIS MINES
READY TO SHIP

Harris Mines Looks Better Than Ever—Big Vein and Very Rich Ore on No. 1

Duke Harris, general manager of the Harris Mines, Ltd., was in town on Tuesday last securing supplies. He reported to the Herald that he has more confidence in the success of the property than ever before. He has been doing a little work on the No. 1 vein again and it is so promising that he believes the No. 1 will turn out to be the biggest ore producer on their property. They recently sunk a few feet one hundred feet to the north of the shaft and out of four feet of depth took twenty-two sacks of the highest grade ore they have yet recovered. They have a five-foot vein with eighteen inches of solid clean ore. It looks so good that he proposes starting at the hundred foot level in the shaft and drift north to get under this shoot. The drift is already run thirty feet, leaving only seventy feet to go. He is confident of getting a big shoot, which will only bear out his contention that the No. 1 vein is the biggest on the property.

For several days the boys have been raw-hiding ore down to the foot of the hill ready for shipment and when Duke returned to the mine on Wednesday he took up another horse to put on that job. The first carload of ore will be ready to ship as soon as there is sleighing enough to permit of transportation. But before the ore is gone work will be resumed on the No. 1 vein.

During the past week Mr. Williams, who is in charge of the work at Rocher de Boule mine, visited the Harris mines and he gave the boys great encouragement in their work. He stated that there was no doubt but that they had a mine, and he informed them that they were going about the development in a proper manner.

It is predicted that the smelter returns on the first car load of ore that will be shipped from the Harris mines this winter will be a big surprise to everyone.

Out of the Hospital

Jas. Dyer returned to town on Saturday night after spending a month in the Prince Rupert hospital with a broken hand. Mr. Dyer is interested in some very promising silver-lead claims on Four Mile mountain, just across the Bulkley from New Hazelton. He expects that considerable work will be done on them next season.

Tunnelled Ninety Feet

Geo. Jennings was in town on Saturday night. He reports excellent progress on his tunnel contract on the Great Ohio group. He is now underground nearly a hundred feet and is working in a good live vein. He expects Mr. Trimble up this month.

Sanitary Inspector Avison was in town over the week end. He is now inspecting interior points

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1913

It is some months since the Citizens' association held a meeting, and two or three times attempts were made to have the annual meeting. As a result the affairs of the town are being neglected and for the lack of continuous activity the town will suffer in the future. The annual meeting should be held and everyone make it their personal business to be there as this meeting is most important. There are not so many attractions during the winter and no one has the excuse that they are too busy. At the same time the winter months are the best possible for the Citizens' Association to get busy. What is to be accomplished next spring and summer depends upon this winter's work, and there are a number of things which require attention now.

If you would increase your happiness and prolong your life, forget your neighbor's faults. Forget the slander you have heard. Forget the fault-finding, and give a little thought to the cause which provoked it. Forget the peculiarities of your friends and only remember the good points which make you fond of them. Forget all personal quarrels or histories you may have heard by accident and which, if repeated, would seem a thousand times worse than they are. Blot out as far as possible all the disagreeables of life; they will come, but they will grow larger when you remember them, and the constant thought of the acts of meanness, or worse still malice, will only tend to make you more familiar with them. Obliterate everything disagreeable from yesterday, start out with a clean sheet for to-day and write upon it, for sweet memory's sake, only the things which are lovely and lovable.—Ex.

There have been so many cures and tests for cancer that have each in turn proved valueless that one reads with scepticism of any new one. We all like to hope that a cure or test has been found whenever a new one is announced, but hope too often frustrated becomes soured. Instead of stirring up fresh hope, new claims now only attract attention to the difficulty of the task that confronts mankind. The latest test is that made by a doctor in Paris who claims to have found a serum which when injected into a person having a true cancer will raise his temperature from one degree to one degree and a half in a day, if tested every three hours with the thermometer. It would surely be a person with an extraordinary placid nature or an astonishing amount of self-control who, knowing that he had the outward signs of cancerous growth, and that he was being tested every three hours for a rise in the heat of his blood, would not work himself into a feverish condition, mounting gradually with the suspense between the tests. The new test may be all that is claimed for it. It sounds, however, less plausible than others that have been announced and are now heard of no more.

To House Fifty Birds

For fifty birds an entirely different house is required than for a hundred birds as referred to in our last issue. For the smaller number a straw loft house 24 ft. by 12 ft. with 5 ft. walls has been found very satisfactory. In this case we have a double pitch roof, with a distance of eight or nine feet to the peak. The walls are single boards, the cracks are battened. In the front are three large windows and between each two windows a pair of loosely fitting doors. The straw is upheld by narrow boards which run from plate to plate. Each gable end is fitted with a small door which, when open, permits of a gentle circulation of air through the straw from the pen below. The straw loft is an excellent system of ventilation and tends to moderate extreme cold in winter and extreme heat in summer. It absorbs moisture which might otherwise collect on the walls and cause the interior to be damp and unhealthy.

In either house during severe weather the temperature may go several degrees below zero, but this is preferable to allowing or forcing the birds to live in foul air in badly ventilated quarters for several months. A close and stuffy house is also likely to be damp, which in time results in unsanitary conditions and eventually in disease.

In general terms we might say give the birds plenty of light and fresh air without drafts. Do not overcrowd, keep the interior perfectly dry. Go to no unnecessary expense, the cheaper the better, consistent with efficiency. If these directions are followed a great deal will have been accomplished to overcome the faults which are commonly made in poultry house construction.—A. C. McCulloch, B. S. A., in O. A. C. Review.

1912 TIMBER CUT

Figures Published for Lumber, Lath
Square Timber and Shingles

A bulletin recently compiled by the Forestry branch, at Ottawa, from figures furnished by 2,558
firms, shows that there was cut in Canada in 1912, 4,389,723,000
feet, board measure, of lumber, valued at $69,475,784; 1,578,343,- 000 shingles, valued at $3,175,- 319; 899,016,000 lath, valued at $2,064,622, and 65,906 tons of square timber worth $1,825,154.

There was a decrease of over 10 per cent in the cut of lumber from that of 1911, this decrease taking place in every province except Saskatchewan. There were twenty-eight different kinds of wood sawn into lumber, but spruce comprised over one-third the cut, succeeded, in the order named, by white pine, Douglas fir and hemlock.

There was a decrease of 14.1
per cent in the number of shingles cut in 1912. British Columbia cut almost one-half the quantity, using Western red cedar exclusively. The production of lath also showed a decrease of 6.9 per cent, spruce making up over one-third of this product.

The 89.9 per cent increase in the production of square timber is noteworthy, for this is the first increase since 1877. White pine made up 53.5 per cent, and birch 28.5 per cent of the total amount exported, 97.5 per cent of which went to the United Kingdom, 1.4 per cent to the United States and 1.1 per cent to other countries.

Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.
